

Press Release Immediate – 6th January 2010

New Partner for ERL Consultancy

Hazel Lowe, formerly working as a Technical Accountant with Barclays Bank Global, has been appointed Partner in the well established IT Services Consultancy. She joins the business as it moves from its traditional market of instructor led training and facilitation to an internet based model focusing on the provision of spreadsheets, logos, presentations and web sites via its family of “NOW” websites. Hazel’s experience of global banking system requirements with Barclays and American Express fills a skill gap when looking at the Spreadsheetnow.com side of the business. Her general business acumen strengthens the management team as this transition gathers momentum. “It certainly represents a challenge for 2010 – but one I am looking forward to. When I consider the scale and intricacy of some of the spreadsheets I developed in my previous role I know I can make use of this talent going forward with the Consultancy” Hazel commented.

About ERL Consultancy: Founded in 2002 this local business has provided PreSales training throughout the world for such international IT suppliers as Dell and Cisco. It is now repositioning to become a virtual internet based business with a more local focus. It is a new member of Dorset Business.
